MARKETING & SALES POINTS

'This is how you sell classic novels to a new generation' - Finding Cain

The classics as you've never seen them before... with original, eye-catching and distinctive retro pulp covers by artist David Mann

New setting of the unabridged original play

Widely studied in schools and universities and performed in theatres across the UK

Other titles in the series include Pride & Prejudice, The Great Gatsby, The Hound of the Baskervilles, The Picture of Dorian Gray and A Christmas Carol

The perfect gift for book lovers with a sense of humour

THE BOOK

It's Gonna End Bardly!

He's a bardass brother with the love of a fine woman. That is until some cloven hoofed honky starts talking crazy about variously hued sheep tugging the hell outta each other! You gotta pity the fool who gets shafted by the green eyed monster. Let's hope Othello can work out who to trust before it's too late...

PRAISE FOR PULP! THE CLASSICS

'Amazing... these are magnificent' - Vagenda

'This new edition had pride of place on my bookshelf' - Fabulous Mag, Sunday Sun

'We love this book, amazing new... edition of Pride and Prejudice' - We Love This Book

'Pulp! the Classics is exactly what it sounds like: the re-publication of classic works of literature with new, pulp covers. The original text remains intact - it is only the cover and the blurb that they have 'pulp-ified'...an intriguing collection' - I Hear of Sherlock Everywhere

'Eye-catching, retro covers' - The Bookseller

'This is how you sell classic novels to a new generation' - Finding Cain

'A memorable take on some of literature's most celebrated texts' - The Creative Review

'The new jackets from Pulp! The Classics are funny and ironic' - Joanne Harris, author of Chocolat

'It's a clever gambit... care and attention has gone into the product... the illustrations are authentically blocky and arresting' - Independent

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

William Shakespeare (1564–1616) was an English poet, playwright and actor, widely regarded as the greatest writer in the English language and the world's pre-eminent dramatist. He is often called England's national poet and the 'Bard of Avon'. His works consist of about 38 plays, 154 sonnets, two long narrative poems, and a few other verses. His plays have been translated into every major living language and are performed more often than those of any other playwright.

David Mann is an artist and illustrator who studied illustration at the Cambridge School of Art. He has previously illustrated for both publishers and corporate clients. He lives in Hertfordshire.
